June 2021

Team of the Month
Congratulations to the June Team of the Month! Members of the staff at Cascades Senior Center are being honored for their work in supporting the county’s COVID-19 vaccination efforts. The Team of the Month honorees are Felix Duran, Judith Mangilin, Haley Moore, Carrie Randolph, Satish Sharma & Paul Torrible of the Department of Parks, Recreation & Community Services.

Several members of the team volunteered to help at the county's COVID-19 vaccination clinic and the call center that was set up to answer questions about COVID-19 and assist residents in scheduling a vaccination appointment. Other staff members took on additional duties to make it possible for their co-workers to help with the COVID-19 response. One of their colleagues said the team "demonstrated what it means to be a part of the solution during the pandemic."

Members of the team are pictured with their supervisor, Brenda Davis. Pictured in the first row, from left, are Brenda, Felix & Judith. In the second row, from left, are Paul, Carrie, Haley & Satish.

7 Things to Know About the Delta Variant

A new coronavirus mutation is spreading in the U.S. Here's what that means for you by Rachel Nania, AARP, Updated July 7, 2021

While cases of COVID-19 have fallen significantly since the beginning of the year, the coronavirus is still circulating in the U.S. And a new strain is gaining a foothold.

All viruses mutate and they mutate often, says Andrew Pekosz, professor of molecular microbiology and immunology at Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health. But when a mutation causes a virus to change its behavior — maybe the virus becomes more contagious or more lethal than previous versions — it gets classified as a variant.

Delta — the World Health Organization (WHO) names coronavirus variants after Greek letters — is the latest variant of concern in the U.S. Here's what you need to know about it.

1. Delta is spreading quickly
2. Delta may cause different symptoms
3. The variant could be to blame for severe disease in some communities
4. COVID vaccines provide strong protection against delta
5. You may still want to keep your mask handy
6. Delta won't be the last variant to pop up
7. Be vigilant, not alarmed
