Gum Spring Road/Route 50 Signal Work Tomorrow and Arcola Boulevard Opening Thursday

Westbrook, the developer of Arcola Center, has secured final approval from VDOT for the signal modification plan at the Gum Spring Road and Route 50 intersection and the interim traffic plan for Arcola and Dulles West Boulevards. As you may recall, the signal and lane configurations were changed to the ultimate condition in December even though Arcola Boulevard won't be extended to Arcola Mills Road for about another year.

The final plan approved by VDOT is as I advocated for - 1 dedicated left, 1 split left/straight, 1 split right/straight, and 1 dedicated right. This new configuration will be implemented tomorrow, Wednesday February 15, between the hours of 9:30am and 3:30pm. I would encourage you to be cautious in this area during this time, and be aware that there could be short term disruptions to travel.

Westbrook is also working to finalize the VDOT-approved plans for the interim condition of Arcola Boulevard from Route 50 to Dulles West Boulevard. We expect completion of all required elements and final inspection by VDOT by Thursday morning, allowing Arcola

Boulevard and Dulles West Boulevard to open midday on Thursday, February 16.

A reminder that northbound Arcola Boulevard will be a free flow right turn onto eastbound Dulles West. VDOT is requiring that Dulles West have a stop sign at the left turn onto southbound Arcola Boulevard for safety reasons due to large amounts of pedestrian traffic in this area. Starting on Thursday, Dulles West will be open all the way to the Dulles Landing Shopping Center and Loudoun County Parkway.

Work continues on later phases of Arcola Boulevard to eventually open it directly to Loudoun County Parkway and Route 606. Clearing for the segment between Arcola Mills and Route 606 will begin in the next couple weeks, and work is being done near the Arcola Mills intersection first so that it can open within the next year.
